Farmers are now saying that 90 per cent will sign up for a dark tobacco association. So say we. The least that could happen to us would be a safe place to rest it until the market afforded a fair price for it.

Corn is low at $3, beef is low at four cents and tobacco will not average enough to pay cost of labor. Taxes are due, the farmers credit is impaired. Where and how is the farmer to save himself from the fright of being reduced to the level of European peasantry?

Our friend Jim Latimer is now with the esteemed Farmville Herald. The Herald is a good paper published in a good town and we are glad to note its progress. Publisher Barry Wall has just let to contract a new $35,000 office building. Mr. A. M. Potter has succeeded Editor Martin as publisher of the Farmville Leader and will soon move into new quarters.

Mr. W. O. Moss has been appointed custodian of car license tags for Appomattox along with 100 other appointments. These officers are to collect 25c fee for each tag sold. We had hoped to see this department of state abolished and license tags issued by treasurers, but the army of fee officers increases with each session of the Legislature in spite of the protests of the people, who bear the burden.

Buckingham Supervisor

Thomas B. Hall has been appointed by Judge Hutcheson as supervisor in Mayesville district to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. G. L. Morriss, who has been appointed treasurer of the county, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of former Treasurer James L. Anderson. Mr. Hall will make a good supervisor as he knows the needs of his district and will render the public valuable service in his new position, the Judge, the people and Mr. Hall are to be congratulated.

Reduce Taxes

Something effective is being done, at last, to break the tidal waive of rising State and local taxes throughout America. A united campaign to be waged against ever-increasing levies is planned by the nation's manufacturers in alliance with the farmers. The National Association of Manufacturers in, representing tens of thousands of firms making almost everything produced in the nation's factories, and the National Grange, with millions of farmers on its books, already are committed to the fight.

A tentative program has been outlined as a basis for the drive. Briefly, the program contemplates the following:

1—The adoption in every State of a deadline, both for the State and its lesser units of government, which shall not be passed in committing taxpayers to public debt.

2—A nation-wide drive for a "pay as you go" financial policy on the part of every State, county and city.

3—Establishment of budget system of finance throughout the United States.

4—A stoppage or lessening of the flow of tax-exempt securities.

5—Control over bond issues so as to make it mandatory that no issue shall extend over a longer period than the probable lifetime of the improvements it is issued to finance.

6—Reorganization of virtually every State government along the lines of abolishing unnecessary boards and commissions, merging those performing valuable work in closely related effort, eliminating duplicate control, and curtailing all expenditures.

7—Divorce of local and national elections by having State and local elections held in odd years.

8—Reduction by one-half in the number of State legislative sessions. States now holding annual sessions would hold sessions every other year, under the plan; those holding biennial sessions would hold them quadrennially.

Charlie Camden and his devoted wife celebrated their golden wedding at home in Buckingham on the evening of the 23rd of Nov., 1926. He has been one of the popular Commissioners of Revenue of his county for many years and when the new law takes effect allowing only one Commissioner to the county if Charlie will just tell his boys, the election result will be easy to forecast. Besides a host of grand-children there are a round dozen boys always ready to do service for Dad. Here's loping that many more happy anniversaries may come to this devoted couple.

Sell it

BAPTIST CO-OPERATIVE PROGRAM

According to Joseph T. Watts, of the Baptist Co-operative Program the Baptist of Virginia have realized approximately $650,000 toward their annual budget for 1926. The goal for this year is one million dollars, and the money received is divided, one-half to denominational causes in Virginia, and one-half to the causes fostered by the Southern Baptist Convention.

For the fiscal year of the Baptist General Association ending October 31st last, there was raised in Virginia a total of $850,000, and it is hoped that at least that amount can be reported for the calendar year by the end of December.

The annual Every Member Canvass for subscriptions to the Co-operative Program of 1927 is now being conducted in a majority of the churches, and all of the churches have been asked to make such a canvass for the purpose of enlisting all of the 220,000 Baptist members in Virginia in the support of missions and all other beneficences.

The recent meeting of the Baptist General Association, held in Danville, gave to the Co-operative Program the pastors, and men, are working to bring up the denominational
